We shall overcome, we shall overcome,
We shall overcome, someday
Oh, deep in my heart, I do believe,
We shall overcome someday.

Someday Sorors, we shall overcome! If you are like me this past week brought back some unpleasant memories from the 2021 "Snowpocalypse" and while I know several of our members were without power for a while and some experienced loss and damage, I am grateful that we all survived. One of my mantras in life is, "He has never left me before, why would He start now".

As we celebrate, recognize, and honor Black History during the month of February I hope that you realize that we are living testaments of our ancestors hopes and dreams. Black History Month was created to focus attention on the contributions of African Americans to the United States. It honors all Black people from all periods of U.S. history, from the enslaved people first brought over from Africa in the early 17th century to African Americans living in the United States today. As members of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. we are making "Herstory" everyday as we continue the vision of our founders through Delta's mission of public service with a primary focus on the Black community.

We kicked off this month with Heart Healthy "Go Red" day and will continue with the Red S.H.O.E. Challenge. Delta Day of Service is February 11th, sign-up now. Social Action is leading us in supporting Equity Rally Day. We will have our Texas/New Mexico State Meeting February 17-19 in The Woodlands, TX. Also, Sorors, it's time to purchase your Founders Day tickets. The committee is planning a grand celebration on March 26 which will include our Rededication Ceremony. We look forward to seeing you engaging in all of our upcoming activities.

Sorors we are on the Move in the name of Delta and Moving Forward with Fortitude!

Yours in Service,

Soror Robin Blackmon

Chaplain's Message

by Soror June Murphy

The Art of Listening

Spouting off before listening to the facts is both shameful and foolish. (Proverbs 18:13, NLT).

It seems that listening should be easy, but it is not. Listening means we must be quiet. This is often the difficult part. We can even control the silence between words by choosing when to talk. For some of us, silence can cause our anxiety to increase, so we talk -- even when we have nothing to say. Good listeners are relatively rare.

It is a tremendous experience to have someone really listen to us, ... to have someone's complete and undivided attention. When this happens, it communicates at a very deep level, that we have value and that we are worthy. Over time, being listened to can convince us that we are worth someone's attention and that we are worth being loved. At times, being listened to can break into our isolation and loneliness.

To be good listeners we must be secure in who we are. Worrying about how we are being received by another individual, or thinking about what we will say next while someone else is talking, sends the message that what we have to say is more important than what anyone else has to say.

When was the last time you really listened to someone? What about the last time you felt that someone really listened to you? What was the experience like?

A wise person will listen and continue to learn,
and an understanding person will gain direction.
(Proverbs 1:5, GWT)

Listening is difficult work, but it is worth the investment. It is something we can improve on with intentionality and with God's help, for He listens when no one else does. And let us never miss a blessed opportunity to listen when God speaks to us! Listen ... listen ... listen.

Economic Development

History

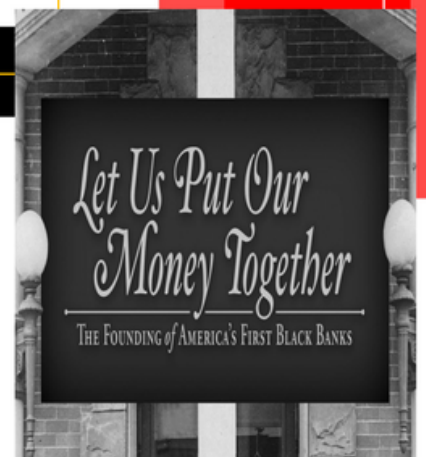

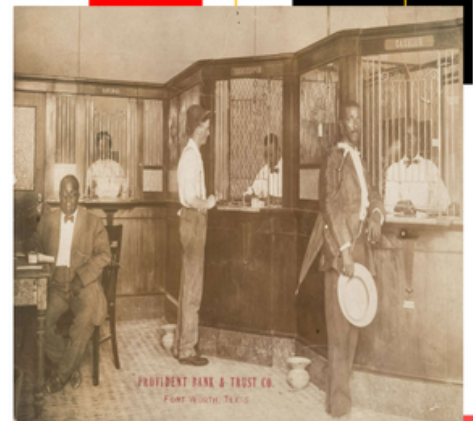

Black-owned banks have been around for more than 130 years, dating back to the charter of the True Reformers Bank in 1888. The bank came into existence after the failure of the Freedman's Savings Bank, which the U.S. government established in 1865 to offer financial services for newly freed African Americans.

<https://www.bankrate.com>

To be considered a Black-owned bank, a financial institution must serve minority communities and be at least 51% Black-owned.

How can you support:

One of the primary ways to support Black-owned banks is by doing business with them, either by opening an account or taking out a loan or line of credit. Another approach is to become an equity stockholder in a Black-owned financial institution. Although there are no local black-owned banks/CU in Austin please share with family and friends who may be looking for other options.
